Chapter 1 by Laura Howard

Testing story wars

Chapter 2 by Ian

1: Heat Story Wars to 600 degrees C at low pressure and in a sealed unit. Evaluate for noxious fumes.

2: Drop Story Wars from no less than 600 ft. Is meaning leaking from any of the corners?

3: Give Story Wars to a group of no fewer than 12 children between the ages of 6 and 10. Are there any sharp edges? Do the children behave differently? Better or worse? Did more than half survive?

4: Shake Story Wars vigorously for 11 minutes. Are there Intellikat hairs on the floor below?

Chapter 3 by Ian

5: If Story Wars is still usable when activated, check for plot anomalies, dislocated grammar and body fluids. Collectively, these should represent less than 30% of the total mass.

6: Wipe clean with a damp lint-free cloth

Story Wars is now ready for use. Children under the age of 5 should be supervised at all times. Handle with care.

May contain nuts.

WARNING: Story wars is not meant for children younger than seven. If a child begins to exhibit strange behavior, take away story wars immediately and seek therapeutic help. If a child is on story wars for more than six hours a day, there may be loss of brain cells or a raise in emotional problems.

Story Wars puts you at high risk for becoming a huge sociopath and could result in major cases of "feels." Use at your own risk.

Chapter 6 by Bob

Plot twist!!
